Basic Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM) & Acupuncture

(Course Code:I-TCM-1503)

Nambudripad's Allergy Elimination Techniques(NAET)

A revolutionary technique developed by Dr Devi S Nambudripad, M.D., D.C., L.Ac., R.N., Ph.D, in 1983 and practiced by over 8000 medical practitioners worldwide.

This technique is non-invasive, drug free & a natural solution to eliminate food, chemical, environmental, emotional allergies and allergy based disorders with lasting results. Unresolved health problems, including subluxations and various pain disorders are frequently due to the result of allergic and hypersensitivity reactions to various substances someone consumes or comes into contact with on a daily basis.

This simple technique will assist you in detecting the culprits that produce symptoms and guide you in helping with your difficult problem patients. NAET utilises testing and treatment principles from Chiropractic, Oriental Medicine, Kinesiology, and Nutritional disciplines. No long term avoidance or dietary restrictions are necessary. Generally after successful NAET treatment your patient will be able to use the treated allergen without future adverse reaction.

The basic theories of TCM and Acupuncture- The theories of Yin and Yang, the Five Elements, Zang-fu Organs, Meridians and Acupoints, Qi, Blood and Body Fluids, the Seven Emotions and the Six Pathogens, Four Diagnostic Methods and Differentiation of Syndromes formed the basic knowledge of Chinese Medicine and acupuncture and moxibustion constituted a main form of treatment.

NAET can only be taught to health practitioners with some training in acupuncture. This course is for those without any background in acupuncture to qualify them to take NAET.
